Fr Joe writes. Priests come and priests go, but the parish community remains, a community with territorial boundaries but made up of all who make themselves part of the community, joining together for the Eucharist and the praise and glory of God. The parish also welcomes the priest sent by the bishop to minister in his name to the faithful.

This parish has been blessed by so many good people: those who faithfully come along to participate in Sunday Mass and also for week-day Mass; those who take on the various ministries, and tasks which welcome and uplift those who come along. The various groups displayed on the side wall of the church gives us a flavour of the main groups within the parish. The parish is blessed with active participation and, as the parish priest, I have taken great delight in this and felt great pride when it is spoken about.

The parish in Gortahork, Donegal, has its own wonderful characteristics and welcomed me over the holidays together with Fr Pat Hennessy, some family members and friends. As well as Sunday Masses they also have weekday Masses but mostly in the evening. On Tuesdays they have a day of adoration of the Blessed Sacrament, during which there is a constant flow of people coming in to visit.

The parish has about 6 shrines of Our Blessed Lady in various parts of the countryside and while we were over a gathering was arranged at the shrine at Ardsbeg to mark the 60th anniversary of the construction of the shrine by Dr Shields, the parish priest at the time. The surroundings of the shrine is so well looked after by the Ferry family and it was so heartwarming to be part of the neighbourhood, seeing people not seen for a long time, and reciting the rosary and the prayers in the open air, led by Canon Michael Herrity. The open air rosary reminds us that the whole of nature is a gift from the Lord as we recall the mysteries of his life.

Priests come, and priests go, the parish remains and the Lord remains for he promised to be with us until the end of time.

Peregrinatio Pro Christi (Travelling for Christ): The members of the Legion of Mary would like to express their thanks for all the prayers that were said for their recent PPC project to Helsinki in Finland. They contacted about 324 people with many expressing a genuine interest in knowing more about God, Jesus, the Church and Mary. The legionaries went out in twos to the parks, the seafront, the marketplace, railway station and the shopping malls. They were well received by everyone and a great number were happy to accept the St Francis Prayer for peace in Finnish, an Icon of the Madonna with prayers in Finnish on the back and some, the Miraculous Medal with several asking the legionaries to put it on for them.Several of those encountered said ' I was meant to meet you today' and those who expressed an interest, a leaflet with the Mass times of the three local churches was offered. Over 20 people who claimed to be atheist accepted the Prayer for Faith. The success of the project depended upon the prayers offered by folk back home so thanks again.
