New Pilgrim Path introduces fellow Christians of all denominations to the great wealth of online spiritual resources that our small team has discovered and continues to discover. We provide links to, and a brief description of, a variety of resources we have explored and found valuable. In addition to our permanent pages, each week we feature a "Website of the Week", "Poem of the Week" and "Music of the Week". We hope these links will help visitors to encounter the person of Christ. Website of the Week: The Liturgy of the Hours

The Liturgy of the Hours (also known as the Divine Office, or the Daily Office) is an immensely rich prayer resource. The practice of sanctifying the day with psalms, hymns, readings and other prayers during "canonical hours" (seven periods of fixed prayer at regular intervals) is of great antiquity. Never monotonous, always new, it provides the means for the whole world, united, to pray together and sanctify every day of every year. Christians of both Western and Eastern traditions (including Roman Catholic, Eastern Orthodox, Anglican, Lutheran, Methodist and other churches) celebrate the Liturgy of the Hours in various forms and under various names. Anyone can pray the Liturgy of the Hours. There are many websites and apps which make it very accessible on desktops and mobile devices. This means the Office can be prayed anywhere, whenever there is a space, however small, in life's hectic round of activities. To access two excellent sites, visit: www.newpilgrimpath.ie.
