This Sunday has also been designated Day for Life and a retiring collection is to be taken up for the apostolate of the sanctity of life itself. Bishop Keenan writes: "…The claim that it is better to die than to suffer leads some people to suggest that euthanasia or assisted suicide might be more compassionate. As Christians, however, we follow Jesus who lived his entire life, including his suffering, in the confident hope that His Father loved him and would raise him up, and He did! The cross, which Jesus did not ask for and did nothing to deserve, has become a sign of hope for countless millions of people in every generation.

…Modern saints like Therese of Lisieux and the young Saint Carlo Acutis understood that when we unite our suffering with the suffering of Christ for the good of the world, it is transformed through his grace…"

Training as a Catechist? Our parish has a good number of children who attend non-denominational schools and are missing out on preparation for First Reconciliation, First Holy Communion and Confirmation and other religious education which is done in our Catholic schools. Yes, parents are the first educators of their children in the practice of faith but help to do so will supplement that education. This is the task of catechists, a service which has become more and more necessary for the good of the Church which is the Body of Christ.

The Archdiocese is running a course leading to an award in Catholic Theological Education which prepares catechists for their service to the Church. There is an Information Evening on Thursday 19th at 7 pm in Clyde St. Willing candidates are asked to come along or see their parish priests for application forms. Young and old and everyone in between can be part of this.
